JAMES G. BLAINE

ROYALLY WELCOMED ON HIS RETURN FROM EUROPE.

NEW YORK HARBOR CROWDED WITH ALL KINDS OF CRAFT.

President Bartlett Delivers the Address of Welcome, in Reply to Which the Man From Maine Makes a Short Reply—A Grand Serenade Given Him at the Fifth Avenue Hotel—A Parade Thursday Night.

New York, Aug. 10.—The City of New York, with Mr. Blaine on board, was sighted at 1:15 this morning. She was then off Fire Island.

The steamer Laura Starin, which was substituted for the Sam Sloan, took the Blaine party from Pier 18 at 7:08 a. m., and reached Quarantine at 7:48.

At 8:30 a. m., Pier 8 was thronged by a party waiting to board the Laura Starin, and by 7 o'clock the boat was respectfully filled. On the upper deck were seated the ladies and their escorts, the party including Mr. and Mrs. James G. Blaine, Jr., Walter Blaine, Mr. and Mrs. Carson Lake, Mrs. A.
 L. Conger, Mrs. Ralph Troulman, Col. Cappinger, husband of Mr. Blaine's daughter Alice, and Mrs. Sullivan, the Chicago journalist.

SAYING GOOD BY IN THE STEAMER'S SALOON.
 Down stairs in the ladies cabin sat Mr.
 Whitelaw Reid, Mr. William Walter Phelps and Stephen B. Elkins. Among others on the boat were Mr. Murat Halstead, John A.
 Schleicher, of the Albany Journal; ex-Governor A. C. Hunt, of Colorado; Robert W.
 Steele and W. G. Fisher, of Denver; Congressman G. H. Loring, of Massachusetts; Chairman Poole, President Bartlett and many others. At 7:08 the Starin backed out of the slip and those who came later were picked up by the Pulver, chartered by the Chicago club. Cappa's band played some popular airs during the trip to Quarantine, which occupied forty minutes. The Pulver came alongside at 8:10 and transferred the delayed passengers, and at 8:15 the Starin headed down the bay.

At Hoffman island she lay to, the City of New York being but a mile or so away. At 9 o'clock the City of New York, gaily bedecked with flags, came up alongside. The band played "Home Again." The Chicago club having gone further to meet the big steamer came up in company with her. The welcomers cheered lustily for "Blaine" for "the Republican party," and for "no free trade."

At last Mr. Blaine was espied at the big ship's rail, and the cheering increased to a hurricane of applause. The Chicago club fired a salute and so did the police boat patrol, which had followed the Starin and Pul-ver down the bay. The band played away at "Hail to the Chief," and the "Star Spangled Banner." Cheers from the City of New York answered those of the shouters from New York. Mr. Blaine disappeared from view, but presently returned escorted by the committee.

The custom officers and a policeman followed by the ladies of Mr. Blaine's party, accompanied by Col. H. Knowlaski, of California, and Dr. Allen McLean Hamilton, of New York. The ladies were Mrs. Blaine, Misses Margaret and Harriet Blaine and Miss Dodge (Gail Hamilton). They alighted on the hurricane deck of the Starin and were escorted down stairs to the cabin amid great cheering. The ladies entered the saloon and Mr. Blaine, who came arm in arm with Chairman Poole, of the committee, was met by President Bartlett, of the Republican club. The crowd pressed hard and it was with difficulty that the officers detailed from the Second precinct, kept breathing space for the speakers.

Mr. Bartlett then made a speech to the assembly, after which cheers for Blaine and Bartlett were given again and again.

When quiet was restored Mr. Blaine said:
 "MR. CHAIRMAN AND GENTLEMEN OF THE REPUBLICAN CLUB OF NEW YORK—To enable you to appreciate this welcome each and every one of you should be absent from home and country for the long period of fourteen months. I am sure you can have little conception of the great gratification I experience that the instant I see the shores of the great republic I should be greeted by you and these gentlemen. It is shadowed only by regret that a great sorrow has fallen upon the nation which greets us as the first piece of American news. Gen. Sheridan was above party and for the union of the states. With the exception of that untoward incident my reception upon my native shores would be unattended with anything but what was joyous and happy.

"The campaign upon which we are about to enter is one that I wish could be prefaced by every American voter seeing what I have seen and hearing what I have heard in the past year. Its progress is watched with an interest as profound in England as in the United States. It is the opportunity of England by which the pauper labor and pauper fabric of the old world hope to invade the new and lower the American laborer to the level of the European. It is

MEETING OF BLAINE AND MORTON. not a contest of capital against capital. It is a contest as to whether the great mass of American citizens who earn their bread in the sweat of their faces shall be seriously reduced in their emolument from day to day.

"That is the whole pith of the question, anything which diverts the attention of the people from it weakens the situation, and I say here, I hope to try hereafter, with more elaboration, that the wages of the American laborer cannot be reduced except by the vote of the American laborer himself and his associates and those who are to come after him to take that fatal step. This policy is shaped by the man who lately sought the country's destruction. But, gentlemen," said Mr. Blaine, "this is not the time for a political speech."

He then closed with thanks for the reception given him.

Mr. Blaine's hand-shaking was somewhat limited as he had slightly injured his right hand, and he was compelled to forego the warm and hearty grasps offered by the 800 who passed in front of him while the Starin steamed up the bay. A glee club formed on the upper deck, sang a song of welcome, composed for the occasion to the tune of "America," and which was loudly applauded. As the vessel reached the landing pier the noise was deafening from the hoarse whistles of the steam craft in the river.

The pier was crowded, and the party with difficulty made its way to the carriages. Mr.
 Blaine, Police Commissioner McClave and Messrs. Poole and Bartlett entered the first one, and the Republican clubs fell behind them, and the whole party, including the ladies, was driven rapidly to the Fifth Avenue hotel.

The serenade by workmen to Mr.
 Blaine, which was deferred from Wednesday evening, the date first selected, occurred Friday evening before the Fifth Avenue hotel at Madison square. The demonstration was greater than was expected.

The log of steamship City of New York shows that her greatest day's run was on the seventh, when she made 448 miles, the smallest run on the first day, when she made 271 miles. On the second day she lay to twelve hours while her pumps were undergoing repairs. On the third and fourth days she encountered head seas, but after that she had fine weather.

Mr. Blaine was in excellent health on the way over, and was the central figure in the entertainment of the passengers.

A canvass showed that twenty-nine states and three territories has sent representatives to greet Blaine.

Thursday Night's Parade.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—All day Thursday thousands of visitors in the city, as well as citizens, waited and watched for the arrival of the steamship City of New York, bringing Mr. Blaine. He came not, and it was finally decided by the managers of the proposed ovation that the parade should take place in the evening, so that visiting delegations should not be obliged to remain over another day.

The reviewing stand itself was crowded, though the small space set apart for the distinguished guests were kept clear, for, although Mr. Blaine had not arrived, Hon.
 Levi P. Morton, candidate for vice president, was there and took the statesman's place.

As the head of the procession reached the stand Mr. Morton ascended, accompanied by Walker Blaine, T. L. Woodruff and others.

As the procession passed the stand and each battalion caught sight of Mr. Morton, loud cheers went up for the candidate for vice president, whose presence, for the time being, dissipated the disappointment caused by Mr. Blaine's non-arrival.

The Times says that 10,000 men appeared in the Blaine parade. The Star places the number at 14,000, the Journal at 15,000, the Sun at 20,000, the World at 30,000, and the Press at 40,000, while the Tribune and Herald fall to state numbers.

 come.

HUGH M. BROOKS

EXECUTED AT ST. LOUIS FOR THE MURDER OF ARTHUR PRELLER.

HENRY LANGRAFF, ANOTHER MUR-DERER, DIES WITH HIM.

Maxwell Writes an Address to the People People of England, and Leaves a Sealed Account of His Connection With the Murder of His Friend—History of the Crimes for Which Both Men Were Executed.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 11.—Maxwell and Landgraff have paid the penalty of their crimes.
 The drop fell at 9:01 a. m.

Hugh H. Brooks, alias Maxwell, the mur-derer of Charles Arthur Preller, spent a great portion of his last hours with Father Thian. Shortly after midnight he gave out for publication the following:

"To the People of England:
 "My English countrymen will doubtless remember the great boasts that have been now and at all times made by the American people in regard to the fair way in which they treat all people.

"I am satisfied that you are not acquainted with the unlawful, unjust and unfair way in which I have been treated. Since accustomed in England to see justice administered in the courts, an examination of the record in my case will show that the prosecutors resorted to every unfair means in their power, even to crime itself, for they procured a check to be forged, had the man who presented it arrested and placed in jail. Afterward the prosecution placed him on the witness stand to testify. His evidence was a tissue of lies from one end to the other. In fact, upon the witness stand he said that he would lie as far as he considered necessary, and the prosecution said in open court that he had been paid $50 for said service.

"This is one specimen of the boasted American justice. This only one of the means used by the prosecution, and had I time I could give numbers of them. The trial has been denounced as a travesty and miscarriage of justice by many of the leading lawyers here. We proved that one of the jurors said that he was going on the jury to convict. The British government interfered and their request for an inquiry was refused by Governor Morehouse on the ground that they had no right to do so, and they did not really attend to interfere, and upon the facts as to the prejudicial juror being laid before the governor he said that fact did not amount to anything.

"So I am made to suffer the penalty of the law without having a fair trial, as is guaranteed to everyone by the state constitution.

"The prosecutor stated in the papers that the governor ought to disregard the request of Great Britain, on the ground that I was an Englishman, and that Great Britain had not taken any notice of the United States interfering in the case of O'Donnell, tried at the central criminal court.

"HUGH M. BROOKS.
 "City Jail, St. Louis, Midnight."

To Father Thian the condemned man made his final confession early in the morning.
 What he said the priest refused to divulge.
 After the father left, Maxwell once more turned to his favorite author, Thomas a Kempis, which he tried to read, but soon threw aside. He lighted a cigarette and paced his cell for some fifteen minutes.
 After this he threw himself on a cot and fell asleep.

Late Thursday night Maxwell handed a big envelope to one of the jailers. Mr. Martin said the document was his client's final account of his connection with Preller's death. It was to be made public after the execution. Martin delivered it to a third party, who now holds it.

So deep was the interest in Maxwell's case that the public almost entirely forgot Henry Landgraff, who was to die on the same scaffold with the young Englishman. Landgraff passed his last day in a quiet manner, reading a prayer book.

A strange incident was the application of a brother of Landgraff for a ticket to the execution. It was refused by the jail authorities.

The crime for which Landgraff suffered death was the murder of his mistress, Annie Fisch. He had become jealous of her, and while drunk accused her of unfaithfulness to him, and shot her through the eye. He confessed the deed at first, then denied it.

The bullet remained in the girl's head for a long while and it was extracted by a physician, after which she died of paralysis.
 Landgraff's defense was that death was caused by the surgical operation, and not by the bullet.

Hugh Mottram Brooks, when he disappeared nearly four years ago from his home in Sunnybank, England, bent upon seeing the world, changed his name to Walter Horace Lenox Maxwell, and it was as Maxwell, the murderer, the world heard of him.

At Liverpool he fell in with Charles Arthur Preller, a refined young man who was traveling for a London firm of upholsters, and the two sailed for America together and became close friends. Maxwell had very little money; while Preller was provided with upward of $1,000, with which to meet his expenses. After a stay in the east the two young men separated, but kept up a regular correspondence, and early in April, 1885, they were together again at the Southern hotel at St. Louis. They arranged to go to Australia, and told many people about the hotel of their plans.

On Sunday, April 6, they were seen in Room 144 by a hall boy whom they had called, but Preller was never seen alive again. Maxwell came down to supper alone, and the next day, after he had expended several hundred dollars for clothing, in which to disguise himself, and for numerous fancy articles for which he had no need, he started alone for San Francisco.

For several days prior to Tuesday, April 14 chambermaids had noticed an unpleasant odor coming from Room 144 in the Southern hotel. On that day an investigation was made. Two trunks had been left in the room, and they were opened. When the lock of the larger was broken the cover sprang up, followed by the knees of a man.
 Crammed into the trunk, putrid and swollen, was the body of Charles Arthur Preller. He had been murdered with chloroform.

Maxwell was now on his way to New Zealand, but he talked so recklessly and had spent his stolen money so lavishly that he blazed his way and detectives easily hunted him down. He was arrested at Auckland, 8,500 miles from the scene of his crime, and after extradition proceedings the officers brought him back to St. Louis, where he was lodged in prison on August 15—four months after the discovery of his foul deed.
 He was put on trial Monday, May 10, 1886, and the result was a verdict of guilty and a sentence to death. An appeal to the supreme court of Missouri was in vain, and the United States supreme court refused to interfere.

Maxwell's defense was that the killing was accidental. He claimed that Preller was suffering from a stricture and had agreed to an operation under the influence of chloroform. The chloroform being unskillfully administered caused his death.

A Mob's Desperate Work.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 11.—Amos Miller, colored, was hanged at Franklin by a mob for an outrage committed on Mrs. Scott, in Williamson county, June 15.

Soon after the commission of the crime Miller was brought to Nashville and jailed, to prevent mob violence, and taken to Franklin and arraigned. The attorneys moved for a change of venue.

A mob already collected got wind of this and immediately fled into the court room and hung Miller to the railing of the front porch of the court house.

The mob was not resisted and were unmasked. A number witnessed the hanging, but the coroner's jury returned a verdict of death by hanging by unknown parties.
 Miller's brother witnessed the hanging but made no demonstration.

An Execution in Delaware.

NEW CASTLE, Del., Aug. 11.—Charles H.
 Riedel was hanged in the jail yard here at 12:42.

YELLOW JACK.

Causes the Denizens of Florida to Seek Cooler Climes.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Aug. 11.—Four yellow fever cases were taken to the Sandhills quarantine hospital at midnight, Wednesday, together with a dozen others that had been exposed. They were W. H. Blake and E. J. Eckers, clerks, and J. W. Saunders, a restaurant keeper, and waiter. Blake came here from Orlando and boarded at Saunders' restaurant. Saunders and his waiter, J. C.
 Mumarb, took the disease from him. All the houses have been thoroughly fumigated and disinfected, and the health officials are alert and watchful.

There are three suspicious cases in the city now. Over four hundred people left Thursday by rail and steamer, and many are panic-stricken. The board of health has announced, after a long secret session, that the disease is assuming an epidemic form.
 Five new cases were reported in ten hours.
 The city will be entirely deserted within forty-eight hours if the disease has assumed the epidemic form.

Murdered His Neighbor.

FLEMINGSBURG, Ky., Aug. 11.—At Drake's mill, this county, Thursday morning, John B. Thomas shot and mortally wounded Harvey Simons. Both are farmers, and had previously been on intimate terms. There is no known cause for the difficulty, and therefore no witnesses. Thomas bears the reputation of being quiet and inoffensive, unless stirred up, when he is a veritable demon.
 He killed a man in Mercer county, Kentucky, in an election fight a few years ago.
 No arrests have yet been made.

Day of Unusually at Wilkesbarre.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Aug. 11.—Patrick McDonald, John Davis and Darby Morrow were killed in the mines here Thursday.
 John and Thomas Watkins, aged eight and ten years, were drowned in Toby creek while bathing. Dr. Underwood, a Methodist minister, aged seventy, who jumped into the water to save the boys, had a narrow escape with his life. The drowning boys bore him down twice. He was rescued with difficulty.

A Four-Year-Old Murderer.

MACON, Ga., Aug. 11.—A little four-year-old colored boy, whose parents live on Tank Carroll's place in Dooly county, killed his little brother by knocking him in the head with a piece of light wood. No one knows the cause, as the mother was off at the time.
 The blow knocked the left eye entirely out of its socket.

Synagogue Dedicated.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—The new Mount Sinai temple on Seventy-second street, which recently came into the possession of the congregation of that name, composed of wealthy Hebrews residing in that portion of the city, was dedicated with impressive and interesting ceremonies, Chief Rabbi Joseph officiating.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For President,
GROVER CLEVELAND,
of New York.

For Vice President,
ALLAN G. THURMAN,
of Ohio.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

To the Democrats of the Ninth Congressional District: I beg leave to submit to you my name in connection with the Democratic nomination for Congress from this district. I have no claims to urge over those of any other true Democrat, and make my announcement with some degree of timidity. I hope to make the primary contest in such a manner as not to create dissension or division in the ranks of the party, and, whether I lose or win the nomination, I propose to remain the same unflinching Democrat I have always been. Respectfully, G. R. KELLAR.
Carlisle, Ky., July 17, 1888.

The Congressional Race.

Immediately following the selection by the Republicans at Chicago of their National candidates, Jas. P. Foster, President of the Republican League of the United States, sent out a confidential letter to the various manufacturers of the country demanding contributions to the Republican campaign fund. This appeal, together with a list of those who subscribed to the fund, fell into the hands of a manufacturer who refused to submit to the blackmailing scheme, and he gave it to the press. From it we extract the following significant paragraph:

"We will win the fight if you will do your share and help us to finish what we have begun; we want money and we want it at once. We are overwhelmed with calls for tariff documents and for speakers and organizers. We propose to organize and fight against free trade in every doubtful Congressional and Legislative district in the United States. To-day there is but one majority in the Senate of the United States when the lines are drawn between Democrats and Republicans, and unless much is done the next Congress will see a free trade House, Senate and President, and then good bye to your prosperity."

The lie about free trade is too apparent to be noticed. What we want to impress particularly upon the notice of our readers is this: This is considered a doubtful Congressional district, and there is to be a fight made for Congress under the auspices of the Republican National League in which all the money considered necessary to buy the election of a Republican will be used. Now, the question is can our county Democrats afford to do anything else than stand squarely and solidly up to some good man who possesses the confidence of the party, and who will bring to his support the undivided vote of the district. Mason County certainly has no candidate to offer, and she certainly ought to have no other interest than the general welfare of the Democratic organization. Standing as she does, at the head of the Democratic counties of the district, backed by the magnificent majority of nearly twelve hundred lately given to Alexander for Sheriff, she has the opportunity to regain her old-time prestige, by setting aside the little differences that have heretofore existed, and going into the convention for the man who it may appear can carry the district over a Republican. She ought to do this, and we think the sentiment of the Mason Democracy favors that course. We cannot afford to let this opportunity to add another Democrat to the majority in the National House of Representatives pass by. It would be treachery to the National party to do so. And while it is true that the Democrats by a united effort can elect their candidate, they must not think that it will be an easy matter to do it, for it will not be. It is the forlorn hope of the Republicans, and they will not give up without a desperate struggle in which money obtained from the National Republican League will be lavishly used, and all the questionable methods common to Republicanism be resorted to. But if our party friends are alert and watchful and give them a Roland for an Oliver every time, there is no question as to what the result will be. There is in this Congressional district a Democratic majority of over one thousand. That tried and true Democrat, the Hon. E. C. Phister, carried it by that number of votes, and any other acceptable Democrat can do the same thing. We hope our friends will think over this matter seriously, and do what must be evident to them, is necessary to secure party success.

Would it not be wise at the convention on Monday in selecting delegates to the district convention to choose exactly the number the county is entitled to with their alternates? This will give a compact delegation and avoid the necessity, should it occur, of dividing the vote into fractional parts. It seems to us it would be the wisest plan.

JUDGE THOMAS has probably heard the news. A Washington City special says he thinks Major Burdett, of Lawrence, will be the Republican nominee in this district, and Mr. Paynter, of Greenup, the Democratic nominee. The Judge has got enough and doesn't want to tackle the Democrats in their fighting clothes.

"UNNECESSARY taxation is unjust taxation." Please reflect over this, and remember that the Mills bill lately passed by the Democratic House of Representatives proposes to remove from the over-taxed people a part of their burden.

ALL right thinking people must agree with Senator Vorhees in his denunciation of the Internal Revenue plank of the Republican platform. It is hard to speak in terms of moderation of so monstrous a proposition. In this christian land and age men sometimes spoken of as christian statesmen have nothing better than free whisky and tobacco to offer the people in response to their cry for relief from a burdensome war tariff.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND in one of his annual messages stated the Democratic doctrine as follows:

"I think the reduction should be made in the revenue derived from a tax upon the imported necessities of life. We thus directly lessen the cost of living in every family in the land and release to the people in every humble home a large measure of the rewards of frugal industry."

That is precisely the intention of the Mills bill lately passed by the House of Representatives, and precisely the effect it will have if put in operation. It will lessen the cost of living and allow the people to keep in their pockets a larger proportion of the wages they earn.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

WASHINGTON.

White W. Forman, of Paris, was here for a short time this week.

Thos. S. Forman, of Midway, came down Wednesday to see his father who has been sick.

Thos. M. Wood, of Brazil, Ind., is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Wood.

Mrs. Sallie McDonald has returned home after an absence of several weeks at Mr. Jas. E. Claybrook's.

Mrs. Jas. B. Claybrook has improved sufficiently to be able to stand being removed to the Blue Lick Springs.

We warn our Republican friends that an ovation to Mr. Blaine should by no means be construed as an ovation to Mr. Harrison.

The Republicans hereabouts who are busy summing up the reasons for their recent defeat, had better save their arithmetic for larger game in November.

Some Republicans affect to believe that if whisky was free there would be less of it drunk. Rather hard to reconcile with common sense though.

The land is flooded from one end to the other with crime, murder, immorality and pauperism, of all of which whisky is the direct cause.

It is not the saloon men, or the distillers, nor the whisky drinkers who keep the liquor traffic on its feet, but men of morality and some who pass for christians by their half-heartedness keep the evil thing alive.

CHATTANOOGA, TENN., June 27, 1888.—Swift's Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.—Gentlemen: In the early part of the present year, a bad case of blood poison appeared upon me. I began taking S. S. S. under advice of another, and to-day I feel greatly improved. I am still taking the medicine and shall continue to do so until I am perfectly well. I believe it will effect a perfect cure. COLUMBIA, S. C., July 7, 1888.—The Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.—Gentlemen: I was a great sufferer from muscular rheumatism for two years. I could get no permanent relief from any medicine prescribed by my physician. I took over a dozen bottles of your S. S. S., and now I am as well as I ever was in my life. I am sure your medicine cured me, and I would recommend it to any one suffering from any blood disease. Yours truly, WACO, TEXAS, May 9, 1888.—Gentlemen: The wife of one of my customers was terribly afflicted with a loathsome skin disease, that covered her whole body. She was confined to her bed for several years by this affliction, and could not help herself at all. She could not sleep from a violent itching and stinging of the skin. The disease baffled the skill of the physicians who treated it. Her husband began finally giving his wife Swift's Specific, and she commenced to improve almost immediately, and in a few weeks she was apparently well. She now is a hearty, flourishing lady, with no trace of the affliction left. Yours very truly, J. E. SEARS,

THE REMAINS FOUND.

The Body of Henry Green Recovered From the Wreck of the Warehouse on Sutton.

The body of Henry Green, the unfortunate colored man who was crushed to death Thursday by the falling of the grain warehouse on Sutton street, was recovered yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock. A force of hands had been busy all day carrying out the wheat and removing the debris. This progress was necessarily slow.

Late in the afternoon Green's remains were located by the swarm of flies that were attracted to the spot, and were gotten out soon afterwards. The body was near the center of the building, and was lying face downwards, with two thirty-penny nails driven in the chest, the chest resting on a small board in which the nails were fastened. A heavy timber was lying across the small of the back. The skull was fractured and there were a number of bruises on the face and body. The unfortunate man had been caught under the weight of the falling timbers and grain, and his death was no doubt instantaneous. The remains were removed to Myall & Shackelford's undertaking establishment, where an inquest was held shortly afterwards by Coroner Cockrell. The following is the verdict: We, the jury empaneled by Coroner Cockrell to hold an inquest on the body of Henry Green, colored, find that the deceased came to his death by being crushed and smothered by grain and falling timbers in a certain grain warehouse occupied by Messrs. A. Finch & Co., in Maysville, located near the corner of Second and Sutton streets, and that said killing was an accident resulting from the falling of said building.

No relatives appeared to claim the body and under the direction of Messrs. Finch & Co. it was interred this morning, the firm bearing the expenses.

The work of removing the ruins is still in progress. The building is a total wreck. The last time it was occupied by the Pearce Bros. was in 1884, when they had only 10,500 bushels of grain stored in it.

Railroad Notes.

The mixed train took several car-loads of rails down to Augusta last evening.

The distance from Asland to Augusta, one hundred miles, is made in four hours, including all stops, by the Maysville & Big Sandy passenger trains.

The outgoing freight train last Wednesday on K. C. was one of the largest that ever left here. There were eighteen cars including three car loads of tobacco from Augusta. It required two engines to take the train out to Summitt.

The new railroad across the river, is getting in admirable condition, and will be second among the first-class roads of the country from the start. Already it is in splendid shape, makes good time with its construction and special trains, and rides easier and smoother than many of the old roads. On two or three occasions here of late, the run from Portsmouth to Greenup, has been made in a little over thirty minutes, a speed of about forty miles per hour. And this, too, with the construction and gravel trains still at work.—Portsmouth Tribune.

An exchange notes the fact that the "Maysville and Big Sandy Railroad has, so far, selected about all of its attaches from the river. Gus Honshell, General Agent, is a veteran steamboatman, known far and near; so is T. T. Johnson, agent at Ironton; W. S. McCollm, local agent at Portsmouth, has been passenger and ticket agent for the packet companies for nearly a quarter of a century; Ficklin Bros., agents at this place were the wharfboat owners here for years; Dave Scatterday, agent at Ripley, has been a steamboat clerk all his life; Capt. W. P. Walker, Jr., manager of the fast Kanawha Dispatch freight line that will soon be operated on the road, has been steamboating for many years. The road evidently knows where to go for talent and experience."

SAMUEL CORDRY, aged thirty, died at Dover August 8th, of Bright's disease. He was a son of Richard Cordry, and leaves a wife and two children.

MRS. THOMAS A. DAVIS, Mrs. Dr. W. S. Moores, Mrs. Joseph H. Dodson and others left this morning for Ruggles' camp meeting, to remain until Monday.

J. W. DODGE has sold his interest in the Carlisle News to Dr. Kehoe, and will go to Orlando, Fla., where he will wed Miss Katie Lancy on the 20th of this month.

THE report that the State Guards would camp at Blue Spring this month has to be withdrawn, as Governor Buckner has written that there was no money to spend that way.

WM. RICE, of Maysville, has been up this week on a visit to his sister, Mrs. John Rice, who is quite ill at her home in the Peck neighborhood.—Fleming Times-Democrat.

HOPPER & MURPHY have just received their new importation of diamonds which are most beautiful, mounted as they are in the latest and most novel settings. You are invited to call and examine the goods. dtf GEORGE LINDSEY, sent up from Adams County for two years for grand larceny, and Samuel Frost from same county for ten years for manslaughter, have been released from the Ohio penitentiary on parole.

SERVICES conducted by the pastor, Rev. John S. Hays, D. D., both morning and evening, to-morrow, in First Presbyterian Church at the usual hours. Subject of morning discourse: "The Choice of Moses," Heb. xi: 24-25. Subject of evening discourse: "The Parable of the Mustard Seed," Matt. xii: 31-32.

MR. ROBERT BISSETT had an exciting race across the trestle with the out-going K. C. passenger train yesterday afternoon, but succeeded in reaching Bridge street a few feet ahead of the engine. He says he doesn't want to run any more such races, Crossing the trestle is dangerous business now, as one is liable to meet a train or engine at any hour.

THE west-bound passenger train on the Maysville and Big Sandy, due here at 10:35 a. m., killed a cow near the fair grounds yesterday. The animal ran between two piles of ties at the side of the track as the train approached but after the engine and baggage car had passed she backed out and was struck by the smoking car and killed. The rear trucks of the coach were thrown from the track, delaying the train a short time.

Barn Burned.

A barn belonging to Mrs. Thomas Or-ridge, near Summitt, was destroyed by fire last night about nine o'clock, together with the contents consisting of hay, thirty sacks of wheat, farming implements and other property. The origin of the blaze is not known. As far as learned, there was no insurance.

Marie Prescott.

The talented actress Marie Prescott, supported by a splendid company, will open the season at the opera house here during the week of the fair. The company will arrive here next Wednesday for a week's rehearsal. Speaking of Miss Prescott, the Courier Journal says: "Indeed she is an actress of whom Kentucky may now well be proud, for she has a spark of the divine fire within her."

The recent rains in portions of Indiana have been of vast benefit to the growing corn, which is now earing. The yield will be the best ever known. Wheat threshing is finished and the greater part of it disposed of. The average yield was about twenty-two bushels to the acre. Fruit of all kinds is plentiful.

A SPECIAL from Flemingsburg says at Drake's Mill Thursday morning John B. Thomas shot and mortally wounded Harvey Simons. Both are farmers, and had previously been on intimate terms. There is no known cause for the difficulty, and there were no witnesses. Thomas bears the reputation of being quiet and inoffensive, unless stirred up, when he is a veritable demon. He killed a man in Mercer County, Kentucky, in an election fight a few years ago. No arrests have yet been made.

In referring to the recent concert at that place by Miss Lelia Wheeler, the Fleming True Blue Democrat says: "It was attended by a large and appreciative audience. Miss Wheeler has a soprano voice of singular sweetness, range and power, and delighted her hearers. She was assisted by Miss Penelope Hendrick, contralto, Miss Hays, of Maysville, alto, Mr. Ellis, tenor, Dr. P. Gordon Smoot and Mr. Keith, basso. Miss Berry, of Maysville, presided at the piano, and Mr. Rosenau, of Maysville, brought some exquisite music out of the violin. The concert was a success."

SOCIALIST RENDEZVOUS.

THE PARIS LABOR EXCHANGE CLOSED BY THE GOVERNMENT.

The Municipal Council Will Demand That It Be Reopened—Bismarck's Organ Denounces France—Mr. O'Kelly Gets a Four Months' Sentence—Foreign Notes.

PARIS, Aug. 11.—There have been within a few days sentenced to terms of imprisonment varying from fifteen days to four months fifteen Communists, including two Belgians and one German. The government closed the labor exchange Thursday. M. Floquet, in announcing the fact, said it had long been used for purposes foreign to its original objects. It has for a long time been a center for fomenting disturbances, and a rendezvous for crowds bent on mischief. The action of the government, however, may lead to momentous results, since on a conference with the labor committee, the municipal council has decided to demand the reopening of the exchange.

It may lead to a conflict of authority between the government and the corporation of Paris, and so give the Socialistic and Communist elements of all kinds some color of revolutionary right. The strikes have doubtless put the restless elements of the city in a fit mood for revolutionary effort, and it may awake the old and very troublesome issue of legislative autonomy for Paris. This is the great dread of the solid conservative elements of the city. The radicals of all factions are strong in the municipal council, and autonomy means Communism and general disorganization. Last year the municipality voted to convene a congress of municipal delegates from all the chief cities, but the minister of the interior interfered and prevented a culmination of the scheme. The formation of central mayoralties is one of the chief dangers threatening the republic.

France Denounced.

BERLIN, Aug. 11.—The North German Gazette says that France is responsible for the tension existing between herself and Italy. In inducing Greek residents of Massowah to protest against taxation by Italy, France aimed to create friction with that country. France, of all the powers, attaches the least importance to European peace, and she actively tries to disturb it. It is nevertheless very apparent that Italy has taken possession of Massowah under false pretenses, encouraged by both Germany and England. As it is one more link in the chain that binds together English and Italian interests in a mutual control of the Mediterranean, and leads toward the appropriation of Egypt by England, it is against French interests. It is a cool bit of effrontery therefore for Bismarck to charge France with trying to disturb peace because M. Goblet protests.

They Would Arbitrate With Us.

PARIS, Aug. 11.—Several members of the chamber of deputies, including MM. Passy, Guyot and Baradet, have sent a circular to the members of the British parliament inviting them to a conference in Paris on October 31 on the question of the proposed arbitration treaty with America. M. Clemenceau has promised to attend the conference. This is a kindly proposition on the part of the European powers, in view of the fact that we have no merchant marine to speak of, no navy to protect it if we had one, and no home on the high seas, not even a coaling station for a navy if we should build one. We have such advantages of foreign trade as the courtesy of Europe extends to us.

Foreign Notes.

Electricity vs. Rope.

ATHENS, O., Aug. 11.—Senator Charles Townsend expresses confidence that the revolting circumstances attending the late execution of "Binky" Morgan, will prove largely instrumental in securing the passage through the legislature of this state at its next session of Senator Rannells' bill, providing for electricity as the means of inflicting capital punishment in Ohio, and he added that he would vigorously address himself to the securing of such result at the next session of the general assembly.

Gould's Health.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Mr. A. L. Hopkins, secretary of the Washab, St. Louis & Pacific Railway company, said to-day, when interviewed on the subject of Mr. Jay Gould's health, that the matter was an absurd one to discuss. "Why," said he, "Mr. Gould was never better in his life, and I cannot imagine how these stories of his illness gain currency. I was with him last Saturday, and I drove around Saratoga track with him, and I had never seen him in better health in my life."

Soldiers Prize Shooting.

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Aug. 11.—The four days' shoot for positions on the department team closed Thursday at Fort Leavenworth. Sergt. J. P. Kelly, Company E, Sixth infantry, won the first and second prizes, a gold and silver medal, for known distance and skirmish firing. Murdered With a Base Ball Bat.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 11.—William Anderson, a Dane, killed his wife with a base ball bat Thursday morning, on account of alleged infidelity. He claims that she had been untrue for a long time past and had frequently remained away from home over night. Wednesday night she was out again, and when Anderson found her in bed at 5 a. m. he seized the bat and crushed her skull.

Will Go Against Gordon.

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 11.—Hon. Jesse A. Glenn, of Dalton, has consented to be the Republican nominee for governor of Georgia. Mr. Glenn was one of the first public men in Georgia to join the Republican party in 1868, for which he was severely denounced at the time. Hon. William C. Glenn, who recently tried to make the education of the races a penal offense, is the oldest son of the Republican nominee.

A member of the tribe of would-be-smarties, who have taken to the manufacture of bogus dynamite bombs, placed a small one Thursday in a Wagner sleeping car in the Michigan Central road at Chicago. It produced a great sensation until somebody found that it was only loaded with a tallow candle.

Herr Most, of New York, testified before a congressional investigating committee yesterday, that there were 50,000,000 sympathizers with Socialism in the world, while there were only 3,000,000 openly working in the cause. In the United States he thought there were 2,000,000 Anarchist sympathizers.

Laban Sparks, of Lafayette, Ind., coal dealer, withdrew from the natural gas trust, headed by President Heath, of the National bank, and organized one of his own.
